Tahra Eissa, PhD
Research Associate
Applied Math
Talk Title

Tahra Eissa received her BS in bioengineering from Cornell University. She then completed a PhD in neurobiology from the University of Chicago under the advisement of Dr. Wim van Drongelen. Currently, Dr. Eissa is a research associate at the University of Colorado Boulder, working in collaboration with Dr. Zachary Kilpatrick (UCB), Dr. Kresimir Josic (UH), and Dr. Josh Gold (UPenn), studying decision making in dynamic environments.

University of Colorado Boulder